Local Advisory Group Meeting Wilmington

The California Air Resources Board invites you to attend our Local Advisory Group Meeting in Wilmington, California on September 12, 2006. This Local Advisory Group is part of Cal/EPA's Children's Environmental Risk Reduction Plan (ChERRP) and is open to anyone who wishes to participate. The ChERRP includes pilot projects that will provide an opportunity to explore strategies for reducing environmental risks to children. At this meeting, updates on several Air Resources Board projects underway in the Wilmington area will be provided and community input will be solicited. In addition, there will be guest speakers sharing information on the effects of exposure to methyl bromide (a commercial fumigant used in the port area) on health, the California diesel truck idling regulation, the California Heavy Duty Diesel Truck Roadside Inspection Program and the Harbor Communities Monitoring projects. We look forward to your participation in this critical meeting regarding community concerns.
